the opposition party claims that the ruling party’s control of the police, military and most local governments allows it to pressure voters, especially in rural areas out of the public eye.

the effect of the drug will be felt for as long as 36 hours.

prescriptions should be written for the smallest amount feasible.

yet all of these substances are capable of causing definite and sometimes severe withdrawal syndromes.